

Case Study #3 Reinstating Services

The Problem: Failure to Grasp the Benefits of SEO

A long-term client discontinued SEO services with corecubed and decided to try another provider who over-promised and under-delivered. With the new provider, the agency not only saw a decline in traffic but also in overall website visibility. After several months with unimpressive results, the client returned to corecubed to reinstate SEO services.

The Solution: Full Steam Ahead

corecubed offers a high level of expertise in both digital marketing and the home care and senior care industries; an unbeatable combination. In the 6-month period following reinstatement of SEO services, using improved website performance tracking and an advanced SEO strategy, the client was delighted with the following results.

- Traffic from organic search increased during first 6 months back with corecubed 383%
- Overall traffic increased during that same time period 166%
- Advanced conversion tracking was implemented
